CARTER (CARDER) FAMILY

QUERIES from GENEALOGY AND HISTORY MAGAZINE,
Box 1717, Washington 13, D. C.

1985 (date and signature missing). Excerpt. A son of James Patton and Mary (Carter) Taylor was named Napoleon Bonaparte Taylor. . . A son of Nathaniel Greene and Emma (Hay) Taylor, James, m. Mary Carter.

2306, Dec. 15, 1940, signed MPV(Mo.). Following is from chart, "My Father's fathers and their kin," 1931, compiled by Robert Isham Randolph of Chicago, Ill. . . . HARRISON. . . Benjamin³ and Anne (Carter) . . . CARTER. Robert¹ and Petronel (Curle) Carter; William²; John³ and Sarah (Ludlow); Robert King⁴ and Judith (Armistead); Anne⁵ (Carter) Harrison, above.

3783, Aug. 15, 1941, signed HLL(Pa.). (c) James Carter in will (made 18 Nov., 1758; prov. Frederick Co., Va.) names wife, Hannah, and 6 minor children. One was James, Jr., m. Ann Bowen, dau. of Henry. Another was William, m. Eleanor _____. Other children: Jane, eldest; Ann; Ruth; Hannah; John. James and William Carter settled in Annwell Twp., Washington Co., Penna., and served in Capt. Abner Howell's Company of Penna. Militia.

5351, May 15, 1942, signed ACR(Va.). Sanford Reamy was of Loudoun Co. (not Westmoreland Co.) when he made will dated 9 Dec., 1787; prov. Loudoun Co., 7 Feb., 1787 (conflicting dates probably some copyist's error). Will shows bequests to "sister" Mary Carder and to Judith Carder (relationship not indicated). Carder is a simple and natural variant of Carter. Reamy is said to have m. (last?) Ann, dau. of Robert Carter, Jr. Reamy may have had a sister, Mary, who m. a Carter, but it seems more likely that when he called Mary Carder "sister" he dropped the "in-law" as did so many others in old wills. . . .

8239, Nov. 15, 1943, signed KPWE(D.C.). Excerpt. Witnesses to will of Armistead Watlington, of Halifax Co., dated 2 Nov., 1803, were: Patsey Scott, Sally Carter, Polly C. Scott, John B. Scott and Clement Read.

10264, May 15, 1945, signed Robert E. Turman, 7955 Oakwood Ave., Los Angeles 36, Calif. . . . In Spotsylvania Co. another Ignatius Turman in will (dated 5 Feb., 1784, Berkeley Parish), witnessed by Edward Herndon and Henry Gatewood; legatees were: wife, Eleanor; gd.son, Turman Lewis (he and John Pierce, exec's); dau., Elizabeth, wife of Bernard Carter . . .

10751, Nov. 15, 1945, signed Mrs. Virgil Browne, Cedar Lakes, R. 3, Edmond, Okla. (a) William Carter m. 2 July, 1691, Mary Goodlow (p. 96, records of Middlesex Co., Va.) and had George Carter (b. 22 April, 1692; bapt. 22 May, 1692) who m. (p. 51, Christ Church Parish Vestry Book, Middlesex Co.) . . . (this next line not readable) . . . of Spotsylvania

Co., Va.; d. 17 Aug., 1753) whose will (p. 130, vol. 38, Va. Mag. of Hist. and Biog.) names dau., Elizabeth Carter. George and Elizabeth had dau., Ann Carter, b. 8 Aug., 1720 and bapt. 4 Sept., 1720 (Christ Church Parish Vestry Book, Spotsylvania Co.), who in Spotsylvania Co. m. John Lee. The Carters transferred to dau., Ann, and husband, land which the Lees later sold to a McNeal. (The U. S. census shows a John Lee living in Middlesex Co. near George Goodloe and Henry Corbyn.) John Lee (or Lea) moved to No. Car. (10 miles from Leesburg); was one of the signers for creation of Orange Co., No. Car., and 1770 was sheriff of same; in will (prov. Sept., 1781, Caswell Co., No. Car.) named Elliott as oldest son (Whitaker's "Hist. of No. Car.")

11384, May 15, 1946, signed ACI(Ill.). In Henrico Co., 1785, a John Carter in will mentioned gd.dau., Betsy Gannaway Carter, dau. of Jacob and Mary () Carter. . . .

11586, Oct. 15, 1946, signed PPO... John Lewis of Warner Hall m. (2) Priscilla (Churchill) Carter. . . The Bladens were ancestors of Frances Ann (Tasker) Carter of Nomini Hall. . .

13229, Nov., 1948, BETA(N.C.). . . Christopher (d. 1828, Pittsylvania Co.) and Mildred (Thomson) Robertson had: Chris., Nancy Carter, Martha Cabinoss, George, William, Edward, Samuel, Polly Stokes, Lucy Hutchings, Elizabeth Smith, Nathaniel, Milly Coleman and Sally Fowlkes...

14052, signed GMP(O.). . . Sanford, son of Jacob Ramey, Jr., and Ann (Sanford); b. 1702-5; d. 1787, Loudoun Co., Va.; m. Ann, dau. of Robert Carter, Jr. . . .

14628, March, 1952, signed FAR(Calif.). Want info on par. of John Carter, Sr., of English anc., who, because of the hostilities there during Rev. War, left the Brandywine area, Chester Co., Penna., for Frederick Co., Va., where in 1800 he bought what is known as the Jones property, east of Winchester, the county seat. He m. Elizabeth Wilson and they had 9 children (order unknown): (1) Robert; (2) James; (3) William; (4) Joseph W., m. 1826, Elizabeth Neil Barnott; (5) John, m. 1818, Susan Pittman; (6) Elizabeth, m. 1816, Joseph Kerfoot Carter; (7) Sydney, m. Henry F. Baker; (8) Mary "Polly" Susan, m. 2 Jan., 1818, Winchester, Frederick Co. seat, John Rutherford, b. ca 1796, Tenn.; (9) Sally, d. young.

15098, signed XHMM(Ill.). : (a) A Barnabas Carter was a private in Benjamin Harrison's company of the 13th and 9th Va. Reg'ts of the Cont. line (regular army) on extant rolls dated in 1777 and 1780 (records of U. S. adjutant-general's office, Nat'l Archives; also p. 134, "Hist. Reg. of Virginians in the Rev.," Gwathmey, 1938). In Sept., 1778, when Va. reg'ts were reduced from 15 to 11, the 1st and 9th were consolidated and the 13th became the 9th (p. 55, "Hist. Reg. of Officers of Cont. Army," Hoytman, 1893.). Capt. Harrison's rec. (p. 211, Hoytman; p. 354, Gwathmey) does not give residence which prob. was in county or area in which company was recruited. For DAR membership, want proof that the above Barnabas is the Rev. vet (aged 84 in 1850) mentioned on p. 1, v. 1, Collins' "Hist. of Ky.;" the one of Nelson Co., Ky., mentioned in G&H item 6753; and that he was father of the one given below who had Joseph.

A Barnabas Carter m. Nelson Co., 26 Dec., 1802, Sarah Clayton (p. 263, no. 60, vol. 20, Reg. of Ky. Hist. Soc.). Of children, I have found these sons in mar. records of Spencer Co. (all m. there), Ind.: Thomas, Barney, C(layton?), William, John and Joseph (m. 26 Nov., 1835, Margaret Hale, and had Amanda). William and John were bound out to Abner Luce.

I have some data on the Shadrach, Moshack, Abedmego and Elizabeth Cartor mentioned in G&H items 3959, 6753 and 7457.

(c) William Harvey Miller (served in Civil War, possibly as a home-guard) m. (1) 30 March, 1853, Spencer Co. (p. 452, book 3, courthouse, Rockport) the above Amanda Cartor and they had daus., Emma Clara, m. 21 July, 1878, Alvord Vivian Powell; and Martha, m. _____ Hanger. He m. (2) Margaret Cartor (cousin of 1st wife).

QUERIES from THE VIRGINIA GAZETTE, Williamsburg, Va.

4488, Mrs. William M. Bloyd, 600 Tomlinson Ave., Moundsville, W. Va. Want anc. of Thomas Carter of Lancaster Co., b. 19 June, 1753; d. 9 Feb., 1825; m. Caty _____ (poss. Tapscott). Their son, John W. Carter, b. 17 June, 1778; d. 22 Nov., 1861; m. Mary S. Demoron, 21 Oct., 1805, of Nelson Co. Their son was Henry Tapscott Carter, b. 18 March, 1807, near Rockfish; m. Martha Emerson, b. 28 Dec., 1817; later rem. to French Creek, Va. (W. Va.). Also want data on parents of the three wives. The above is copied from a Family Bible which also stated the parents of Thomas Carter might be Thomas and Mary (Kilpatrick) Cartor.

Excerpt from letter of Fannie H. Cather, Box 422, Belle Plaine, Kansas. "Mr. Robert Carder, of the Stamford Genealogical Society, Stamford, Conn., has sent me a good deal of helpful Carder material, but not much about the Va. line.

"I'm especially interested in Culpeper, Hampshire (now W. Va.), around Harrisonburg in Ingham Co., on into present day Harrison, Barbour and Taylor Counties, W. Va.

"My husband's gt.gd.father, John G. (R.?) Carder was in the War of 1812 from Culpeper Co., and in his papers the name of his father is mentioned as James Carder, still living in Culpeper Co. in 1815. I'd like to know the name of James' wife and parents. We know John G. (R.) Carder's wife was Frances Spicer. They were m. in Culpeper Co., 17 Jan., 1822. Would like to have official record of that marriage.

"Have written to Washington, D. C., for Rev. War record of a John Carder, but I do not know that he was from Culpeper Co. There is a possibility that this James Carder was a Rev. soldier himself, but I've never seen a James Carder on any Rev. War lists.

"Carder is not to be confused, as far as I am concerned, with Corder nor Carden."

p. 217. Genealogy Plus, by William Buckner McGroarty.

It is interesting to note that in complicating his genealogical record as he did, Col. Lewis William Washington was but following in the steps of ancestors, lineal or collateral as the case might be, who did the same thing. For instance, when in 1775, Col. Lewis Willis, of Fredricksburg, in the Commonwealth of Va., m. for his 2nd wife, Mrs. Ann (Carter) Champe, the widow of his 1st wife's brother, he inspired a local rhymester to write and print (Va. Gazette, 23 Sept., 1775) a few lines describing the complications thus created:

"My husband's my uncle, my father's my brother
I also am sister unto my mother
I am sister and aunt to a brother called John
To whom wit and good nature combined doth belong.
This paradox strange as it may be to you
Any day that you please I can prove to be true."

(Those lines apply to Mrs. M. C., dau. of Mr. L. W. The marriage was logical. Quoted in "The Willis Family," Byrd Charles Willis.)

Col. Henry Willis, whom Col. William Byrd labeled "The top man of Fredricksburg," was m. 3 times and had numerous children, varying in ages and divided into 3 groups. Col. Lewis Willis, b. 1734, was the only child of the 3rd marriage to arrive at maturity. His mother was Mrs. Mildred (Washington) Gregory, aunt and god-mother to the president.

Col. Lewis Willis m. (1) Mary Champe, dau. of Col. John Champe of "Lamb's Creek," King George Co. By her he had 6 children, of whom the eldest was a dau., Mildred, and another a son, John. Mildred Willis m. Landon Carter, of "Cleve," and was the "Mrs. M. C." of the poem.

Mary Champe's brother, John II, of Lamb's Creek, m. Ann Carter of "Cleve." John d. in the spring of the year, 1775, and Mary Champe Willis having d. sometime before, Lewis Willis in due time m. his sister-in-law, the widow Champe. The chief complication arose from the fact that his dau., Mildred Willis, was married to Ann's brother, Landon Carter. Lewis Willis was own cousin to Gen. Washington, and also, of course, to his sister, Betty Washington Lewis. These interesting facts enter into the picture, more or less directly, as may appear later.

It is not known that Mrs. M. C. ever proved through the columns of the Gazette the paradoxes described. It may be pardoned the writer, he hopes, if he undertakes to perform this service in her stead:

"My husband's my uncle;" as the brother of her step-mother.

"My father's my brother;" as the brother of his wife, Landon was brother-in-law to Lewis, and Lewis, by courtesy, bore the same relationship to Landon's wife, Mary

"And also am sister unto my mother;" as her husband's sister, Ann became her sister also, by courtesy.

"Sister and Aunt to a brother called John;" this was the celebrated Maj. Jack Willis of the Revolution, and was her full brother. She was his aunt because, by courtesy again, John was the nephew of Landon, Mildred's husband.

As will be noted, there existed a well-defined relationship between Col. Lewis William Washington, and the earlier group, especially through the Washington strain. To set this more clearly before the reader, attention may be called to the fact that the oldest child of Col. Henry Willis, John, who d. in 1750, m. Elizabeth Madison. Their only child, Mary Willis, m. Col. William Daingerfield (of the Revolution) of "Coventry;" their dau. m. George Lewis, of "Marmion," and their dau., Mary Willis Lewis, m. Byrd Charles Willis, the only son of Lewis Willis and Ann (Carter) Champe.

Mary Willis Lewis was the gt.gd.dau. of her husband's uncle (John Willis) and the gt.gd.niece of her husband's gr.mother (Mildred Washington Willis) who was the gt.aunt of George Lewis of "Marmion."

p. 71. Book Review of "Historical Atlas of Westmoreland Co., Va., - Patents," by David W. Eaton, The Dietz Press, Richmond, Va., 1942.

Among the many accounts given of prominent men, that of Councillor Robert Carter is of greater length and perhaps interest. From Fithian's diary is the following: "he would have no splendid nor magnificent monument, not even a stone to say hic jacet. He told us he proposed to make his own coffin and use it for a chest till its proper use shall be required -- that no stone, nor inscription be put over him -- and that he would choose to be laid under a shade tree where he might be undisturbed and sleep in peace and obscurity. . . . whereupon Mrs. Carter begged that she might have a stone with this only for a monument, 'Here lies Frances Tasker Carter.'" Mr. Eaton adds "Their wishes have been carried out." Mr. Louis Morton in his Robert Carter of Nomini Hall does not give us this conversation of the "coffin." Mr. Morton and Mr. Eaton are at variance as to Robert Carter's burial place. The former states he was "buried in a churchyard in Baltimore," (p. 273) and the latter affirms "is buried at Nomini Hall." (p. 54) Which is right?

Mr. Eaton tells us further that Councillor Carter "concluded to free his slaves before his death" and we find that at Cedarfield he experimented in the "Share Crop" plan by giving some of his old darkies teams, seeds and farming tools, and houses to live in. "No bosses but themselves and to farm as they pleased, but to give him one third of the crop." His will provided for gradual emancipation for his 453 slaves, arranged not to be a "disadvantage" to his neighbors.

p. 243. Four Virginia "Blenheims" and Somewhat of Those who Built Them, by William Buckner McGroarty.

Albemarle Co. This "Blenheim" was located on a part of the original Carter grant of 9350 acres obtained in 1730 by John Carter, Secretary of the Colony and oldest son of "King Carter." Though Secretary Carter never lived in the county, he maintained two establishments upon his estate, one being "Carter's Mill" on the No. Hardware, and the other "Blenheim." Edward Carter, son to the Secretary, lived at "Blenheim" for many years, and represented the county in the House of Burgesses, with Dr. Thomas Walker, 1767-1769, and in the House of Delegates with George Nicholas, 1788. During the detention of the Convention troops at "The Barracks," Gen. Phillips, the British Commander, was stationed here. In 1836, Andrew Stevenson purchased "Blenheim" and made it his home. It was his wife, Sally Colos of "Enniscorthy," who during their life in London, presented 2 dozen Albemarle Pippins to

Queen Victoria, thus opening the English market to this fruit, which, at her Majesty's behest, was long exempt from duty. (Ante-Bellum Albemarle, by Mary Rawlins, 1935.)

We quote from another source a more intimate description of the "Blenheim" of the present day: "The residence is 100 feet long with 35 foot "L". It stands almost in the center of a 5-acre lawn with immenso trees and commands wonderfully fine views of mountains on the west and the rolling country to the east. The library, kitchen and servants' quarters occupy quaint and separate buildings. The fine old terraced gardens add much to the wonderful charm of this beautiful property, which embraces 330 acres of land." (Va. Mag., 1946)

As in the case of the other "Blonheims" described in this article, the date of structure cannot be determined. The Carter grant is of date 1730 -- and it will be recalled that the Battle of Blenheim took place in 1704. Albemarle Co. was carved out of Henrico in 1744, and a very sizeable piece of land it was, comprising as it did, until 1761, all that is now Amherst, Buckingham, Nelson and Appomattox counties. The Carter grant apparently lay altogether within the limits of present Albemarle and Amherst. That Blenheim was built by Edward Carter, and about the time of his marriage, may be assumed, but it is not a matter of any record, as far as the writer has been able to find. His wife was Sarah, the dau. of Col. John Champe, of "Lamb's Crook," King George Co., and, according to well-supported legends, "Blenheim," their home, was, during many years, the center of the social activities of a considerable portion of the Commonwealth, where life flowed along in an atmosphere of affluence not differing much in degree from that maintained by "King" Carter himself. House parties, after the manner of the times, were of course of frequent occurrence. Mr. Jefferson mentions one such occasion where he had been a guest, in the fall of 1763, when he had especially enjoyed the company of the hostess' young niece, Miss Jonny Taliaferro, who "charmed him with her singing to her own accompaniment on the harpsichord." (The dau. of Col. John and Ann (Champe) Taliaferro of "Dissington," King George Co.) Jefferson, then 20 years old, was writing to his friend and schoolmate, William Fleming, who, in 1766, m. Elizabeth Champe, the youngest dau. of the "Lamb's Crook" family.

The writer has not been able to establish the exact date of Edward Carter's birth, but as his elder brother was b. in 1736, it may be assumed as approximately 1738. There is no uncertainty as to the date of his death. His will was made on 21 Feb., 1792, and was probated June 6th, same year. This document disposed of a princely estate: to wife Sally, house in Fredericksburg, also "Plantation in Albemarle, known as "Blenheim;" sons Charles and Edward, lands in Amherst "near where my son John lives;" to son John "and Apphiro Carter, his wife," son Charles and his wife "the dau. of Col. Fielding Lewis," and son George, lands in Amherst; to sons Whitaker and Hill, lands also in Amherst; to son William Champe, plantations called "Dicks" and "Wheelers," and land in Albemarle; to son Robert, plantation in Albemarle known as "Gloucester" and another known as "Chatham." 5 daus. were mentioned. One of these, Mary Champe Carter (1778-1846) m. 1802, Judge Francis Taliaferro Brooke, who says that her father left her 15,000 pounds in "Officer's Certificates" which brought no cash, and "one-half of the family plate" which she never received. ("The Narrative of my Life," by Francis Taliaferro Brooke, duBellet, Vol. 2) The other daus. mentioned were Ann Williams, Elizabeth Stanard, Jane Bradford and Sally Carter, "wife of George Carter."

Of the descendants of Edward and Sarah (Champe) Carter, it may be truthfully said that their name is Legion. Whoever they are and wherever domiciled, heirs of all that was best in the 18th C. traditions exemplified at "Blenheim," they may feel a justifiable pride of race and ancestry.
